

ANNOUNCE COMPENSATION PLAN

Will Press Needs of Veterans When Congress Convenes

Program Is Based on Recommendations Made at Minneapolis Convention—The Proposals.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 16.—A legislative program, calling for adjusted compensation for World War veterans and affecting their rehabilitation hospital care and insurance will be presented to Congress when it convenes in December by disabled American veterans of the World War. The program, based on recommendations adopted by the third annual convention of the organization held at Minneapolis, was announced here today.

The proposals provide a rating of total permanent disability for veterans who have been given hospital care for 12 consecutive months, and that all veterans so rated and those being treated at home shall receive the same family allowance as given veteran bureau trainees. An effort also will be made to have all veterans recommended for permanent total disability rating carried on this roll temporarily pending final award. Total disability ratings will be sought for men entitled to training which has been declared not to be feasible and a rating of 50 per cent permanent disability will be asked for men discharged from hospital with diagnosis of arrested or quiescent tuberculosis. Amendment of the civil service laws will be posted to place disabled veterans who obtained a passing grade in an examination at the head of the list for jobs. The program would make woman veterans who are ill or in need eligible to enter any home maintained by the government for veterans with provisions for a separate home for them when their number warrants.

Held For Using Pass Unlawfully

Will Smith, negro, was this morning placed under arrest by L. L. Wilson, special agent for the Southern and Sergeant J. H. Martin on a charge of fraud by unlawfully using a railway pass good for eight persons. Smith's arrest on a drunk charge led to his being held on the other charge pending an investigation by Officer Wilson. In making a search the ticket was found in his possession but nothing was thought of it until a note was found revealing that he had no business with it. The pass was made out to Lee King and called for his passage and the evidence and note was addressed to Smith. It told the bearer to use it and be sure to give his name the same as the one written on the pass which was "Lee King" and which also called for seven laborers. Smith claimed King was in a mine in West Virginia. In his possession was also a pass made out to Smith and his wife, he evidently being a railroad man.

Discover Missing Rail In Time To Prevent a Wreck

(By The Associated Press) SYDNEY, N. S. W., July 16.—The tension in the steel and coal strike areas was increased today when the authorities revealed that a rail had been removed from the Sydney and Leubourg Railway shortly before the passage of an express and that a boy had been arrested while tampering with a switch with a piece of iron at a spot nearby. The tampering was discovered in time to prevent a wreck.

YES, WE STILL HAVE A CHAMPION

If Jack Dempsey were no more, who would be the heavyweight champion of the world? Gibbons, Carpenter, Williams, Fupp, Walcott. That is the list of contenders who have cracked had a rumor of yesterday been true. And that rumor, which proved to be hush, aroused about as much interest as would the comeback of Kaiser Bill. Some fight bug might have had a nightmare, but anyway Dame Rumor started her fight and by 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the entire topic of conversation in Danville—and it Sunday afternoon, at that—was "what is there to this Dempsey rumor?" This morning the United-States in The Bee office sounded like a warning time at a bee hive. It took only one sentence to answer any and all of the queries: "Now, there's nothing to it. Montana's surplus cow is not yet ready to be split up between the undertaker and tombstone makers. For Dempsey in a statement to the Associated Press at Los Angeles denied being in a wreck. Some fan just dropped too much, picked up too much, or couldn't stand the excitement of the two big battles and just imagined that a fast-fine train wrecked the champ's special-bull McFarland into splinters and bumped Jack off for the final round of 10.

The rumor was not confined to Danville alone. North Carolina "Lard" has been learned came early in the morning, when the engineer of train No. 37 telephoned saying that he had heard that Dempsey had been killed in an automobile accident, and the Register-Bee was asked if they

Poincare Reiterates Policy of France

His Address at Senlis, on Sunday Causes Conflicting Views on Outcome of Proposed Reparations Settlement.

(By The Associated Press) LONDON, July 16.—British hopes of assuming the allied leadership in negotiations for a reparations settlement with Germany were shattered here today by a serious setback over the week-end by reason of Premier Poincare's speech at Senlis Sunday.

Nevertheless the British officials who returned to Downing street early today to resume the task of drafting a reply to the latest German offer were not so sure that the situation was as gloomy as the news from Paris seemed to indicate.

The British attitude as reflected in official circles as that the latest said reply to the German address the better. It is recognized that the atmosphere of a memorial unveiling was not a suitable one for the announcement of any change in French policies and the fact that Premier Poincare merely reaffirmed the rigid French views without making them stronger offered some satisfaction and encouragement.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, July 16.—Premier Poincare's address at Senlis yesterday was a mere reiteration of the French government policy and was not intended to reply to the German offer, the speech of Premier Baldwin was explained in official circles here today. The entire address, with the exception of a few paragraphs, was written before the premier spoke, it was said. It is considered in official circles that the speech was a reaction to the time the promised British note is received will be the same as that obtaining since last January.

(By HENRY WALES (Copyright 1923 Chicago Tribune)) PARIS, July 16.—A pompous rejection of most of the demands uttered by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin of England Thursday was embraced in Premier Poincare's speech at Senlis yesterday at exercises in memory of those killed during the German occupation when the Prussians shot the mayor of Oden, burying him head downward, his legs protruding from his shallow grave, on the pretext that the townspeople fired on the invading troops.

Point by point Premier Poincare refuted Mr. Baldwin's declaration to the British parliament, calling attention to misstatements and correcting certain allegations. He presented France's viewpoint and defended his policy towards Germany.

The premier's speech makes it very difficult to believe that a rapprochement toward a common Anglo-French policy on reparations is now in the air for the basis of the forthcoming English reply to the Berlin government.

The United States came in for a few indirect raps during the speech when Premier Poincare voiced resentment at foreign interference in a matter primarily interesting creditors as recalled that France had borrowed huge sums from Great Britain and America to procure ammunition and foodstuffs to continue fighting.

"France emerged from the war the worst sufferer," Premier Poincare said. "What has she demanded and what has she obtained for her sacrifices and sufferings? Territorial possessions none—not even all of A. S. according to the 1914 frontiers—not an inch of territory not belonging to us."

But since the treaty was signed Germany has inspired the chorus everywhere in the same song—Beligerent France, militarist France, imperialist France. But we do not covet foreign soil. We wish only that

State Commended For War Draft

(Special to The Bee.) RICHMOND, July 16.—Virginia probably stands pre-eminent among the states in the administration of the selective draft law during the world war, according to Colonels Briggs and Reams, of the office of the adjutant-general of the army, who were here Friday in conference with Adjutant-General Sale and Governor Trinkle.

Due to the splendid showing made in Virginia, this state was the first to be visited by the War Department officers brought a letter from General Pershing in which he commended Virginia for the part she played in mobilizing state's troops and requested the co-operation of the governor and General Sale in revising the system. General Sale was the adjutant-general of the state during the mobilization period.

MORNING GRAIN LETTER (Courtesy Thomson & McKinnon.)

(CHICAGO, July 16)—The argument that differences in European stocks of wheat offset surplus in exporting countries made by Eugene Meyer of the War Finance Corporation in all probability is true. This is considered bearing on wheat values. Hedger sales are depressing prices but their volume is so small that it will be ineffective if Europe concluded to replenish supplies.

Two Coaches Are Telescoped; Seven Injured

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, July 16.—Two wooden coaches of a crowded elevator train were telescoped and crushed, injuring seven passengers, today when it crashed into the rear of an empty subway train in the Bronx. Transportation Company officials attributed the accident to the failure of switchmen to move the subway train, which was being groomed for its first run, and to rain, which caused the brakes of the elevated to slip when the motorman rounding a curve saw the train.

EXCLUDE JEWISH GOLFERS.

(By Chicago Tribune Service) CHICAGO, July 16.—Golf may be a Scotch game, but members of six Jewish golf clubs in the vicinity of Chicago are asking why there are no Jews among the participants in the Chicago City Championship, scheduled to start at the Midlothian Club tomorrow. The championship play is under the auspices of the Western Women's Golf Association.

Protest on the part of the Jewish golfers is two years late, said Mrs. Farlin H. Ball, president of the Women's Western Golf Association. She pointed out that there are two classes of clubs which make up the association—active members and associate members. The Jewish clubs are associate members. Mrs. Ball explained that no tournaments could be played on the links of associate clubs and golfers from these clubs are excluded from participating in the Chicago tournament. She pointed out, however, that they would be eligible for the Women's Western Championship play.

It was admitted, however, that all clubs which exclude Jewish membership are merely associate members of the association. Two years ago, Mrs. Ball said, at the suggestion of the associate clubs, a vote was taken regarding their admission into active membership. Shortly after this ballot, the Jewish clubs began to send in their resignations.

Last week a member of the Bryn Mawr Club, which is exclusively Jewish, attempted to enter one of its golfers in the Chicago tournament. It was explained to the officers of the club that the application was too late.

Jewish golfers declare a "prejudicial farce" any local championship which excludes their best golfers. But the officers of the Women's Western maintain that the exclusion of the Jewish clubs was voluntary on their own part.

City firemen at daylight today saved three men from possible death when, called to the store of A. Barroody on Main street at 5:15 o'clock, they found three men who occupy rooms on the second story of the building cut off from escape.

Quick ladder work resulted in Felix McKinney, Charles Walker and Perry Weiford being taken down to safety by the firemen who, upon arrival and recognizing the men's serious plight devoted their efforts to life-saving rather than to fighting fire. Once the men were safe, the firemen turned their attention to the blaze and were successful in quenching it before it had broken out generally in the building. Mr. Barroody this morning said that his loss would be about $5,000 on his stock and fixtures, but he had $5,000 and $7,000 insurance, while the building, owned by Julian Meade, suffered damage of about $5,000, also covered by insurance. One insurance man expressed the belief that $1,000 would cover the damage to the building.

The condition of Felix McKinney, who is 74 years of age, was found to be serious when he had been brought to the ground. He was not altogether conscious and he was taken by Police Officer Talley to the city hospital where he is now being treated. It was said at that institution that his condition was most serious and that two-thirds of his body had been burned. Both of his arms were severed, his head injured and the entire upper part of his body was presented in a most ghastly manner. In many years for firemen to rescue human beings from fire and those who were on hand and witnessed the successful effort said that the firemen had shown unusual despatch in dealing with the contingency.

The alarm was rung from box No. 17 at the corner of Main and Union street by Frank Guarrant, who had just come in on the train from Norfolk. He was in front of the American National Bank when he heard a crash of glass and turning he saw smoke pouring from the upper floor of Barroody's store. The alarm was just across the street and he turned it in. All of the city's apparatus answered. Guarrant standing out in the street and directing the Paxon street engine as it came out towards the fire.

Captain John Malcum, driver of the engine, said this morning that he at once sensed the situation, seeing two men at one of the windows from which smoke was pouring. They were plainly in distress. All hands turned to the work of rescue and the ladder was taken from the truck and raised to the second story from Main street. Up the ladder went Malcum, and Firemen J. R. Scarce, E. F. Royter, E. B. Reed and C. A. Barnes. Police Officer Talley, who arrived promptly also going up. Flames were already on the upper floor. McKinney was found lying on the floor. His body had been kicked by the flames. Royter picked him up and carried him to the window and he was handed down. Mr. Weiford, who is crippled, could not have escaped without the aid of the firemen and he was also passed to safety down the ladder. Walker, being able to climb down himself, a stream was couled from the fire. The fire which was found to have started in the stock room of the fruit and ice cream parlor was attacked from the Market street entrance. The flames had been tackled by the firemen who used the only means of exit and they were checked within a short while.

The cause of the fire could not be explained by Mr. Barroody. Firemen said that it seemed to have had its origin in a pile of old crates immediately under the wooden stairs. When the flames began pouring water the flames were about to spread in the upper floor and the mattresses of the bed in Walker's room had already ignited.

The fire broke out in the roomers by Mr. Weiford. Mr. Weiford had got up to get a drink of water when he reported to firemen he heard a thud on the floor below and came to the conclusion that someone was trying to break in. As he opened the door he saw a volume of smoke and flame. He quickly grabbed other roomers who made for the end of the hall over Main street to get away from the smoke which was already stifling. Mr. McKinney, either confused or believing he could get down the stairs more easily for the fear of the hall fire, in that position was reached by the flames then breaking through. Mr. Weiford was slightly burned about the head.

A quantity of fruit in the stock room was ruined by water and fire, and while the flames did not break down the main store, water seeping through from above caused some damage. Mr. Barroody was unable to open his store this morning on account of water damage and the real smell of burned debris.

Subconscious Mind Is Now Made To Talk By Serum

By JACK JUNGMEYER (Special to The Bee.)

LOS ANGELES, July 16.—"Truth serum" tests on county jail prisoners here, following those at San Quentin penitentiary, apparently leave the guilty conscience without a hole to hide in, not even the shadowy lairs of the mind.

Clinically, if not legally, the anaesthetic "third degree" seems to have been established as potentially the most effective crime detector and deterrent, in these experiments by Dr. Robert E. House of Ferris, Tex., its originator.

Six jail inmates voluntarily subjected themselves to Dr. House's injection of scopolamin, a drug hitherto used extensively in obstetrics and now employed by the Texas physician to elicit the facts in criminal investigations.

Three gave details in connection with their cases not known to authorities. All maintained innocence in the present charges, but several confessed to former offenses. Two, according to officers, changed their previous stories.

The demonstration, in the presence of medical and legal lights was primarily to further Dr. House's appeal that the scopolamin or "truth test" treatment be legalized as an adjunct to criminology. No effort was made to test the reluctant, and it was assumed that only the innocent volunteered.

A former police officer, under the drug denied receipt of stolen goods in box-car holdups. He mentioned the name of two men he said were guilty, and the district attorney jotted down the information.

An alleged forger, up for trial, admitted undressing the check in question, but denied writing anything "on the front of it."

A Pasadena youth accused of attacking girls repeated at length that he did not know the names of any of his alleged victims, but according to official witnesses admitted having used "dope" until a year ago.

A man facing trial as a "dope" peddler, admitted, said authorities, that he had been arrested four times previously, but was guiltless of the present charge, naming as his partner a man wanted by police.

A man, convicted of parole breaking, said he had been arrested "many times."

A man, awaiting appeal on life sentence for murder, and "fighting" the anaesthetic, vehemently denied guilt, asserting he didn't even know the name of the slain woman.

As the subjects lay inert on cots, after hypodermic injections of scopolamin and application of chloroform, whispering their confessions to the sharp queries from Dr. House, the scene took on the drama of scientific pioneering. One had the uncanny sensation of peering into the cerebral storehouse of ultimate secrets—of prying a hitherto "invincible" citadel of self, while the gatekeepers of the brain snored.

"Under the influence of scopolamin here administered," said Dr. House as he looked expertly at a suspected criminal rendered oblivious to existence. Appreciation of environment is eliminated. The will-power is inoperative.

"In such state, if the individual is questioned the moment he can hear, there is no doubt that his replies will be the truth. He is helpless to protect himself with inventions."

The principle involved is based on clinical observations that the brain's most powerful center is hearing, and also the last to succumb. It is the first to function under anaesthesia. Now the only function of the auditory nerve, when stimulated by a question, is to carry sound waves to the auditory center, and the only function of this center is to evoke memory.

"My method of securing from the mind the stored contents of memory, against the will, under scopolamin anaesthesia, is a harmless and humane 'third degree'."

"If it proves successful in only 50 per cent. of cases it is far more reliable than any other method of criminal duress. Legalized, and its power popularized, it would go far to eliminate gang crimes, since arrest of one would mean the names of all."

"It would, with corroboration of course, enable reticent suspects to acquit themselves; obviate the necessity of immunity to know criminals, clean prisons of the quitters, reduce enormously the government expense for controlling crime."

Dr. House has turned over the findings of seven years of research with his discovery to the American Research Anaesthetic Association in the hope that they will take the initiative toward eventual legal recognition of ferreting and combating crime.

NEWS FROM CHATHAM

CHATHAM, July 14.—A telegram on Friday at noon announced the death of Mrs. T. Langhorne Whitehead in Wilmington, N. C., wife of Dr. T. L. Whitehead of this place. Six months ago Mrs. Whitehead suffered a very severe burn about the body from which she was continuously confined to her bed and trusting that a change and hospital treatment would benefit her, she was taken to Wilmington on Friday, July 1, in care of her brother-in-law, Dr. John Evans, and friends had hoped that the trip had proven very beneficial until a wire at an early hour Friday morning announced her condition as in extreme and the wire about noon telling she had passed away. Mrs. Whitehead was the oldest daughter of H. D. Shepherd, in October 1896 she was united in marriage with Dr. T. L. Whitehead, who with an only daughter, Francis survive, also her father, mother, two sisters, Mrs. John Evans of Wilmington and Miss Allie Shepherd, of this place, and two brothers, E. T. and Hugh Shepherd Jr. both of Chatham, besides a very large family connection in Pittsylvania county and elsewhere.

Mrs. Whitehead was an active and consistent member of the Presbyterian church and for many years took an active interest in the choir from which her splendid voice will be much missed. The work is being done by the state Experiment Station using farm boys who are graduates of the state college of Agriculture Pittsylvania county is fortunate to get this survey and we urge that every farmer cooperate in this work.

The first of the week has been just what the crops were needing and on Saturday morning in this vicinity land was too wet for plowing owing to the copious rain during Friday night and early Saturday morning. All crops are growing rapidly and it is hoped the Sunday shower will be good during this season. In some sections of the county rain has been as good as in others out the crops have not suffered since the rain of the Sunday morning which broke the drought of several weeks.

The regular July term of Pittsylvania county circuit court will open for the term Monday with Judge T. J. Clement presiding without a docket of several cases and a civil docket with a list of the largest consideration of cases in Pittsylvania county for the past year.

PINT CRASHES TO FLOOR; AROMA WAS DELIGHTFUL

As the result of a most unfortunate mishap to a young man of the city Patterson's Drug store last night was pre-empted with an aroma, which if possible, certain of the straight-laced prohibitionists would find illegal to smell. However, the olfactory nerve is not to be denied and it remains that the aroma was there for the wayfarer man though a dry, to take a whiff off and many there were that whiffed and few sniffed.

The young man in question had brought himself a soft drink probably with a view to hoarding the sterner stuff and was extracting his purse from his hip pocket, and the purse got caught as purses have a habit of doing a sudden jerk brought the leather wet out but with a pint of booze, which crashed on the floor.

The liquor that was red was no more roseate than the young man's face. The place was crowded at the time; it was a sympathetic crowd—few even smiled.

He paid his check and departed.

Just before the tragic affair three police officers had been drinking together at the fountain. They left a moment too soon.

Late into the evening the odor of the liquor persisted and it is useless to mention that the store was crowded until the closing hour.

CROPS LOOKING FINE IN WESTERN PART OF STATE

RICHMOND, Va., July 14.—"Crop conditions were never better in Southwest Virginia than they are this year," said Governor Trinkle, who reached the city today from his summer home at Wytheville. "The season has been perfect, with abundant rains at intervals for the best results. The farms, where the fine cattle are grown and fattened for market are a delight to see and the cattle are in just the best condition possible."

"We have excellent wheat crops, oats, rye and potatoes. The cabbage acreage is large and they are coming along and will be ready for shipment in August, the best you have ever seen in your life. And there are thousands of acres of these."

"There is another thing that will surprise you. The farmers out there have gone in for raising beans, and I saw one farm of 200 acres in cultivation. That is one of the best paying crops to be found anywhere and the chances are that this fall there will be big shipments of these to all the markets."

Mussolini Given Confidence Vote Changing System

Vote Taken Amid Scenes Rarely Enacted — Had Angered Deputies by His Fiery Address.

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, July 16.—Amid scenes rarely enacted, Benito Mussolini won a vote of confidence from the Chamber of Deputies with a margin of 163 votes on his electoral reform bill. Before the vote was taken he had angered the deputies in his accustomed style. His fiery address was punctuated with outbursts of applause both from benches and galleries. The emotional wave swept his auditors into a strong and wild demonstration.

The vote was 303 to 140, seven not voting.

The bill changes the system under which the present chamber is chosen, abolishing the plan of proportional representation and giving the party receiving the most votes, two thirds, or 305 of the seats in the Chamber.

While the proportional system would end as now used it would still apply to the minority parties. The effect is to make one constituency of 55 out of the entire country.

Mayor Wooding Reviews Scenes At Gettysburg

Mayor Harry Wooding returned to the city early yesterday morning from a delightful trip to Gettysburg, his first visit to the scene of the great Civil War battle in sixty years or since he fought there. The remainder of the party which left with Captain Wooding did not return with him. They kept on further North on their motor trip. They were Col. and Mrs. A. R. Carrington, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Carrington, Jr. and Mrs. A. E. Carrington, and Mrs. A. E. Carrington.

Mayor Wooding stated this morning that he had a delightful trip, it being one that he had planned for some time. He said that the visit to the battle site was a most interesting one, his first in sixty years. He stated that a great change had taken place and although the landscape was natural, the plan had been built up considerably in the nature of a park with statues of the war's heroes. He said that a great change had taken place and although the landscape was natural, the plan had been built up considerably in the nature of a park with statues of the war's heroes.

Mayor Wooding left last Wednesday on his motor trip with the above mentioned persons. For lack of time, he was compelled to abandon the party, which continued further north.

Ernest Gregory's Funeral Today

The funeral will be held at four o'clock this afternoon of Ernest Gregory, aged 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gregory, who seven weeks ago was accidentally wounded at Park Springs by his cousin, Carson Womack, and who died last Saturday night at the General Hospital. The service will be held at Main Street Methodist Church by Rev. T. A. Spont, with interment to be made in Mountain View cemetery.

There had been little hope held out for the boy for the past several weeks despite his game determination to live. It could not be, however, for the shot which penetrated his side had done a vital organ and doctors who had labored hard to save him had recently given up hope for him. At first he rallied well and some hope was held out but a serious condition set in and during the past two weeks his vitality had been slowly yielding. The two boys were shooting frogs. Gregory fell into some shallow water and his chin extended the gun barrel towards him after he had helped him while climbing up the bank the gun went off and the charge entered Gregory's side.

Highway Commission To Build Guard Rails On Schoolfield-Stokesland Road

It was learned this morning authoritatively that the state Highway Commission has definitely decided to erect guard rails on the asphalt road between Schoolfield and the state line at a cost of about $500. Recently this road was taken up with the commission by A. D. Starling of the Chamber of Commerce at which time the danger of leaving the numerous embankments without protection to motorists was stressed. The commission will put up stout wooden timbers at every stretch where the land falls sharply away on either side and these will be a measure of protection.

Locals Play High Point Here Today

The locals are now going good and they will give the Furniture Makers a hard battle in an effort to go another rung up the ladder to the top of the percentage column.

NEW YORK COTTON.

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 15.—The cotton market was irregular and unsettled today. The early weather news did not indicate any actual break in the Southeast drought but there was prospect for showers which rendered the market a little more sensitive to the poor Liverpool cables. As a result the market opened barely steady at a decline of 25 to 31 points and the active positions sold about 33 to 37 points net lower during the early trading.

SEARCH FOR DESERTERS SETS ONE SEAMAN ONLY

SOUTHAMPTON, July 14.—The search for deserters from British vessels in favor of the Levantian and its heavier pay envelopes has resulted in the discovery of one man who might possibly be termed a deserter.

Out of several hundred British seamen which English newspapers said were among the crew of the ship, authorities have found P. C. Barnes, a kitchen clerk, who left the Bernagaria in New York because he wanted the better job that was to be found on the Levantian. He said he had taken out his first British citizenship papers and that he was anxious to bring his wife to the United States, but was unable to do so as long as he drew the wages offered by British companies.

Summoned to court for more than 20 seamen, but inquiry has developed that with the exception of Barnes the men were not those sought.

STILL SMILES AFTER MEETING CHINESE BANDITS

(Special to The Bee.)

SEATTLE, July 16.—"Boo pah! Boo pah! Maquay bin dai laio!" ("Be not afraid! Be not afraid! The Americans are coming!")

The Chinese city of Chung King surrounded at night by 2,000 raging followers of "Daw Jo," Chinese woman bandit chieftain. Savage Celestial devils hacking at the gates and thirsting for blood.

Inside, hysterical and shrieking natives and worried foreigners. No means or resisting the enemy horde outside, once the gates yield. No chance of escaping a cruel and senseless massacre.

And then off in the distance, lantern lights flicker, column of men swinging rhythmically and monochromatically in the darkness, the white of their smart uniforms faintly seen in the glow of the bobbing lights.

Lookout Shouts.

As the column drew nearer, the "slout-slout" of foreign shoes upon the ground.

A lookout perched on the wall jumps with joy.

"Boo pah! Boo pah! Ho! Ho! The Americans are coming! Don't be afraid!"

The frightened throng inside takes up the chant, sobbing with relief.

Staccato commands outside. A rush. The attack. Then quiet.

Such is the picture of the China of today as drawn by Miss Margaret E. Deabler, Red Cross nurse, who, with a party of hospital workers, has spent the last two months in the Chinese interior in the vicinity of the Yangtze river, in the interests of the "Syracuse" hospital, founded by the University of Syracuse, of which she is a graduate.

At Chentu.

Miss Deabler, arriving here from the east, will lecture in the east on conditions in modern China.

With a party of 11 doctors and nurses, she was stationed in the city of Chentu, in the province of Szechuan.

Bandit raided and looted Chentu and the doctors and nurses fled down river in Chinese junk.

The entire population of Szechuan province, said Miss Deabler, "is too busy either banditing or protecting itself against looters to find time in which to build."

Baby's Health

NUMBER ONE
THE BABY'S FOOD

Summer complaint is not one particular disease. During the summer months infants and children are particularly exposed to upset of their digestion and to influences which damage their digestive organs, the stomach, small and large bowels.

These upsets may even cause serious complications, such as pneumonia, irritation of the kidneys and other troubles which end up in death of the child.

If the infant and small child needs constant care and watching over by its mother all the year round, this care and watching must be doubly strengthened during the hot summer months. It is during this critical period that laxity or negligence in the care of children subjects danger to their lives.

It is during the summer months that the mortality among infants and children is the highest.

While the summer complaints of infants and children may include a great variety of diseases, yet they all point to one thing, an upset of the stomach or intestines, and this upset of the digestive organs is also caused by a great number of causes. Now while it is true that a great many things will cause an upset of the stomach or intestines, and this upset of the digestive organs will cause, in its turn, a great many different diseases, yet the methods of preventing an upset of the child's digestion are very simple and practical and can be easily carried out by every mother.

In no field of medicine is the prevention of illness so important as in infants and children. The stomach and intestines of the child is the most delicate mechanism that we know, and is not prepared to stand any overheat. It must receive the food that is intended for it by nature and which has also proven of value in the hands of trained people. The child must receive food which is good in quality and also of proper quantity. It is not sufficient for the mother to concern herself only with the quality of the food, she must also consider the quantity of the food which she gives the child. A child will not thrive if the food given it is of good quality but not sufficient to provide for life, exercise and growth.

This contention, namely, that the child should receive food which is of proper quality and sufficient quantity, should be readily agreed to when we consider another mechanism than the human infant and child. Let us, for instance, consider the automobile. The essential part of the automobile is the engine. Now this engine is far simpler and less delicate than the human machine. Yet we all know that in order to run smoothly the gas that we use must be of a certain quality. Similarly we are very particular to know whether the oil that we use to grease the machinery is of the proper consistency. We are also careful to carry on such a load that we know the machine is able to stand.

When it comes to the consideration of the amount of gas and oil we need for our automobile, we know exactly what to expect. It will never occur to us to expect that a certain type of automobile should consume the same quality or quantity of gas and oil that another type of machine is consuming. However, when it comes to a consideration of the most delicate part of the world, the human infant and child, we are not satisfied with very little knowledge, both as to quantity and quality of food. We also do not think that each child is a definite individual, or distinct type of machine. We are willing to take all sorts of suggestion from a kind neighbor just because a certain food or medicine helped her child, and don't think for one minute that an amount of gas necessary for one sort of automobile will not suit the other.

We thus see that the loss for an intelligent understanding of the care and management of your child is a knowledge of the simple laws that govern your child's nutrition—The rules of quality and quantity of food. This is the key to the well being of your child. In the next article we shall discuss it further.

Good Morning Judge!

An unusually light docket greeted Mayor Harry Wooding this morning in his return to the bench after an absence of several days, he having been on a pleasure trip to Gettysburg.

All of the cases this morning were of a minor nature, mostly drunks and traffic violations. Besides eight drunks, the following cases were disposed of:

C. K. Petty, violating Mapp act, fined $51 and costs.

William Turner, colored, violating traffic ordinance, fined $11.50.

The negro is said to have come very near running over a little girl. He had attempted to round the traffic post at the intersection of Main and Craghead streets and could not make it.

He ran the machine backward and almost struck the child, it is said.

Lincoln Grogan, colored, violating traffic ordinance, dismissed at costs, $15.00.

Roy Mills, fined $16 and costs for being drunk and disorderly. Mills is alleged to have assaulted his wife but she stated this morning "he did not care to testify" him and no charge was brought.

It is said to have been very early on the street, especially after he was placed under arrest.

Robert Edmunds, colored, fined $10 and costs for not having proper lights on his machine.

A. B. Cash, colored, fined $5 and costs for not having proper tags on his machine.

MISSING BATTLE AFTER HIS TRIP

(By Chicago Tribune Service)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Aspiring to the prize ring and reading of $500,000 purses in this country, are equivalent to Germany a billion and a half marks, Carl Berlandt, a Hamburg, decided two weeks ago to come here in time to witness the Firpo-Willard battle. Accordingly, he went to Bremen and stowed away on the Steier, a liner of the Hamburg-American line.

The young stowaway finally got to within a mile or two of Boy's thirty acres, in Jersey City, but there he stopped. His terminus was a detention pen at Ellis Island. Soon he will be on his way back home.

Berlandt was discovered by the ship's officers today before the Hanover pulled into quarantine, and locked up. He escaped from confinement and hid, intending to swim for Rickards big arena. The ship was then ordered held up by Captain Wurtis until he was found, because there is a fine of $1,000 on every stowaway who slips into the United States.

Rumor That Woman Swallowed Snake Is An Absurdity

(Special to The Bee.)

RICHMOND, Va., July 16.—Physicians and internes at Memorial Hospital are contending with a hydra-headed reptile. Several days ago a rumor made its appearance and like a serpent itself has been going the rounds of gossip, to the effect that a woman was brought to the hospital and that an operation, most scientific and delicate in nature, performed, by which a rattlesnake, swallowed by a woman in her youth, was extracted. Despite repeated denials, the rumor comes every day, they state.

Annoyed by scores of inquiries and visits from many persons who desire to know all about the strange case, the hospital authorities have issued a request that announcement be definitely made that there is no patient at the hospital suffering from the effects of having swallowed a snake.

"It is a medical and chemical impossibility for a snake to live in the human anatomy," said one of the physicians yesterday, in commenting on the report. "Of course, a small snake might be swallowed by an individual, but it would soon die from the action of the digestive acids and ferments in the stomach. The report is one of the most absurd I have ever heard."

The physicians state that one man appeared at the hospital a day or two ago and stated that he was possessed of some wealth and influence and would be glad to pay for being let into the secret and mysteries of the swallowed snake. The hospital authorities, however, as they could, disabused him of the idea.

Hear Car Theft Case Tomorrow

E. E. Setzer and Vester Coltraine who are charged with the larceny of an automobile from High Point, N. C., will be given a hearing in the police court tomorrow. Jesse W. Benton was engaged this morning in hearing the evidence of the officers against the two men.

Police Officer Ira Harris who shot Setzer in the shoulder has been suspended and is answerable to a warrant sworn out by Chief of Police Bell. This case has not yet been heard by the police commission but examination into the evidence will be undertaken by Commonwealth's Attorney Carter and Mr. Benton during the course of the present week. Harris shot the man when he ran. Sergeant J. Haraway had been talking to the young man standing a few feet from the automobile and had walked back to the car and getting in, told Harris to take charge of the man and that it would be necessary to lock him up.

Harris at that moment was not near Setzer who finding himself free momentarily and hearing the remark of the sergeant darted away with Harris in pursuit.

MILAN, Italy,

AFTER 200,000 MILE HIKE HE'S STILL LONESOME

JOSEF F. MIKULEC AND HIS BOOK

(Special to The Bee.)

CLEVELAND, O., July 15.—Josef F. Mikulec has wandered over 200,000 miles seeking "The Biggest Thing in Life." After 21 years of globe-trotting and autograph collecting, he isn't sure but what he might have found the object of his search right at home in Croatia.

"I have visited kings and queens, presidents, governors and nobles in all lands. I have seen every country and every city, have traveled where and where I pleased—but I have missed the biggest thing in life," he says sadly.

"The biggest thing? Companionship—real companionship."

"I meet scores of people every day. But they aren't interested in me and I can't get the opportunity to become interested in them. I've got to know of my travels, and I've got to tell it all over again."

Loneliness Constant.

"When the day is done, I haven't anyone I can sit down and talk with as one friend talks with another. And that is the biggest thing in life."

Everyone knows Mikulec. President Harding has met him. So has Woodrow Wilson, the Prince of Wales, J. P. Morgan, the late Teddy Roosevelt, and hundreds of others of equal note.

Twenty-one years ago—he's 45 now—Joe left his home in Croatia, a province of Hungary. He's been walking ever since through a score of nations and every state in the United States.

Now he wants a little farm somewhere in his adopted country. He sees a wheat field, or maybe rows of corn and tomatoes and pines and horses and chickens—and neighbors.

Book Weighs 57 Pounds.

Joe's autograph book weighs 57 pounds now. Names that would amaze you are written in it. Just about every world character except John D. Rockefeller and the king of England.

He uses a little wagon to carry the book. It is so heavy. For many years, however, he carried it, but it wasn't that big then. He increases it as it fills.

Joe wants to see his book finally placed in a museum or library. He hopes someone will buy it for that purpose.

Price? He don't say, but he does add that what it brings will buy the farm and have plenty left over to tide him through the remainder of his life with friends.

Saturday afternoon, he had just returned from an automobile trip to Campbell county when he was taken almost speechless and suffering considerably by his head. It is considered very fortunate for him that he reached home before he was stricken so ill as he was alone on the car. His condition is thought to be somewhat improved.

Co-Ops To Begin Second Season Tuesday, July 17

(Special from Tobacco Growers News Bureau.)

RALEIGH, N. C., July 14.—The Tobacco Growers Co-operative Association will begin its second season marketing next Tuesday, July 17th, when forty warehouses of the Association will begin its second year of operation throughout the entire South Carolina Belt.

The big co-operative opens its receiving points this year two weeks in advance of the announced date of opening for the auction warehouses in South Carolina and the North Carolina border counties.

The same growers who are generally conceded to have set the price for the South Carolina crop last year will now be the first to receive money for the crop of 1922. More than 1,500 new members and seven million pounds of tobacco are expected to contribute to the strength of the Co-operative Association in the South Carolina Belt since the markets of that State opened last year, and officials of the Association are prepared to handle a majority of this year's crop in South Carolina as well as in Virginia.

Mass meetings of the organized growers will be held at Kingsree and Mullins next week to celebrate the success of the Association and the opening of its second year of marketing United States Senator E. L. South, primary member of the South Carolina Belt, will address an all-day meeting of tobacco farmers at Kingsree, Wednesday, July 18th. Governor McLeod, of South Carolina, will join the Co-operative growers at a great barbecue at Mullins on July 19th. He will speak on the Co-operative marketing of tobacco.

More than a hundred demonstrations of sorting, bundling and grading tobacco have been held at the local units of the marketing association which now extends into every tobacco growing county of the Piedmont State.

Association graders have assisted thousands of growers in preparing their crops for market under the direction of C. O. Dixon, warehouse manager for South Carolina, and W. E. Lee, field service representative for that State, who estimate that many thousands of dollars have been added to the value of the crops which association members will begin delivering to the co-operative floors next Tuesday.

Substantial cash advances will be paid by the association for all tobacco delivered by its members at all South Carolina belt markets and several improvements in grading and warehousing have been effected by the association following its first year's operation.

T. C. Watkins, Jr., manager of warehouse, has outlined the policy of the association in the following letter to all warehouse employees:

"You have a vital part to perform in the most progressive movement that has ever been instituted for the betterment of the tobacco growers of the South. Its possibilities are unlimited, and I believe that you will take pride in the fact that you are one of the pioneers, and believe that you will realize that you are working for more than a mere salary, but for a greater principle. You should be absolutely sold to the idea of co-operative marketing and realize that you are not fair to yourself or your association. The success of this association depends largely upon the loyalty and aggressiveness of its employees."

"Our first duty is to serve the farmer, who is our employer, and we should never lose sight of that. Your work is not finished when you have completed your routine duties. It is up to you to live and talk co-operative marketing. Our membership is looking to its employees and is judging our organization by their conduct."

"You have been selected for your present work from a large number, and I personally am expecting and know you will prove yourself worthy of the confidence that has been placed in you by this association."

JOB AS DOCTOR
LEADS TO ARREST OF YOUNG MAN

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

ATLANTIC CITY, July 14.—Though he never studied surgery professionally and has no degree, Russell George, 28, Toronto, now under arrest here for robbery, hoodlums and physicians of the Atlantic City hospital so successfully that he was invited to become a resident physician and surgeon and actually held the post from March 1 to May 21 without exciting suspicion.

"It was too easy," said George. "I never said I had any diploma, was never asked for any, and if I had been asked, I could not have produced any. I lived in Toronto or in Montreal until last year. Then I became an attendant to Harry Simons, invalid cigar manufacturer. From being called nurse, I got the name of 'doctor' and it stuck to me."

When his patron, a physician here took pity on "Dr. George" and gave him the job.

"I fooled the nurses," said George. "By smilingly asking them how they would handle such and such a case and then committing them. They thought I was a grand doctor, because I told them they were fine nurses. I never overstepped the mark by experimenting. I needed the job and wasn't going to turn it down."

A city official caused George's discharge after exposing him. Later a patient complained that George had "borrowed" a gold watch from him, and this led to George's arrest. He is a smooth talker, dresses well and has an excellent professional air.

NO REASON WHY
FORD SHOULDN'T
ENTER CONTEST

(By The Associated Press.)

CHICAGO, July 14.—There is no reason why Henry Ford, many say, should not enter the 1924 presidential race if he desires to be a candidate, according to William G. McAdoo, former Secretary of the Treasury who passed through Chicago today on his way to New York.

The presidential race is the great American free-for-all. "Mr. McAdoo said regarding Ford's chances: 'I see no reason why he should not enter it if he desires to be a candidate.'"

The former Treasury secretary said he had made no statement in Kansas City last night as reported that he had not decided if he would seek the nomination for the presidency. He said he had not discussed politics while in Kansas City. My trip is a business one and it is important enough to bring me here across the continent in mid-Summer, he said. "I am not discussing at all on this trip."

THE GRIST O'GOTHAM

BY CASUAL STROLLER

NEW YORK, July 15.—Farmers aren't the only ones who rise or fall on pranks of the weather. City folk sometimes are as vitally affected in the region of the pocketbook by unfavorable weather. Coney Island concessionaires, in particular. These little stallkeepers, vending hot dogs, orangeade, etc., pay fabulous rents for their cubbyholes, and it is a saying among them that if they can't make a clean-up on the Fourth of July they might as well quit for the season. It rained torrents last July 4, and the night before. As a result one small thoroughfare off Surf avenue contained 12 concession stands suddenly gone out of business for the season.

Little lessons in Gotham slang: A hard-boiled customer in a sixth avenue drugstore disdainfully refused the pile of silver handed out in change for a $5 bill.

"Folding money's what I want," he said. "Gimme folding money. No hard stuc for me. I like to fold up my roll so's I can feel it."

Absinthe is the rarest and costliest liquor handled by New York bootleggers. Champagne is cheap and common in comparison. A Broadway bootlegger quotes absinthe at $60 a bottle—one quart, not a case! Absinthe is prohibited in France, so it is "double bootleg"—manufactured illicitly abroad, smuggled out of the country, and smuggled into this country.

It's "Standing Room Only" at Broadway's daily outdoor concerts. Crowds line the curbs of Tin Pan Alley—in 4th street just west of Broadway—and listen critically, cynically, and sometimes enviously. For many have been among the performers trying out their voices—and the public ear—with some new popular song, hot off the presses. It isn't much entertainment for the entertainers. It's just work. But the hangers-on, idly curious, don't mind—unless the voice is too bad.

Home brew secrets are now being applied to coffee making. Copeland Townsend, of the Majestic Hotel, claims credit for discovering that you can make better coffee by taking a page out of the bootlegger's book.

"We neither boil the coffee in water nor percolate it," says Townsend. "Here's the secret: Pour boiling water on the ground coffee and let it seep through into the coffee pot. As it seeps down it is filtered through rice paper—exactly the same sort of filter the home brewer uses to get the impurities out of liquor. The process is rather difficult in the home but it's worth the trouble."

Townsend says statistics show America is drinking 50 per cent. more coffee since prohibition.

Take a stroll at night 'n the crosstown streets of New York, particularly in the Thirties, Forties and Fifties. Most front doors are made unlovely and untidy by garbage cans. Yes, right on the sidewalk. Many of the old brownstone houses, one-time ariscratic homes, have been converted into apartment houses and there are no backyard entrances, fire escapes and convenient back hallways to keep such sights screened pending the early morning round of city disposal carts.

When you take a taxi in New York do you know there are three different kinds of rates? Look at the flag on the meter. A green flag denotes the cab charges the lowest rate; while is a little higher, and red is the most expensive. All rates are prescribed by law, and the meter flag warns you what you'll have to pay.

GERMAN TOBACCO SHOPS CLOSE IN TAX PROTEST

BERLIN, July 14.—With the cheapest cigarette costing 800 marks, August 2 will be "Cigarette-Less Day" in Germany. Cigar smokers and snuff users will also be without their daily ration, as the German tobaccoists have agreed to close their shops on that date in protest against the increased taxes on their wares. There is now a 57 per cent. tax on tobacco. The new levy is retroactive, and as many dealers are unable to pay what the rowe the Government on their present stocks they are closing shop.

BOOZE SUPPLIES ARE EXHAUSTED

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

PARIS, July 14.—About 5,000,000 beers were consumed in 42,000 bars and cafes in Paris in the last twenty-four hours.

Thousands of cafes' supplies of booze became exhausted owing to the tremendous demand due to the excessive heat in Paris. Ice cream manufacturers are working night and day to supply the demand, utilizing the plant of American machinery provided by doughboys and left after the armistice and never used until now. Thousands of American tourists are the best booze customers, picking up champagne at 75 francs ($3) a bottle as a relief from the exorbitant demands of bootleggers in America.

Paris is without taxicabs since the hot wave, the chauffeurs enjoying rides with their pals in Bois Du Boulogne or along the Marne and Seine, taking an occasional swim.

Part of the downtown restaurants are hard hit because a "strong man" working in a conduit smashed an electric cable with a blow from a pickaxe and the lights have been cut off for three days. Making Waru and Volles Crillon and a number of other places are using candles for light to the intense disgust of the clientele.

KRUPPS TO PAY OFF IN I. O. U'S

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)

ESSEN, July 14.—Owing to the difficulty of obtaining sufficient marks, Krupps and other firms in the Saar will pay their employees in I. O. U's called emergency money. These have been issued in denominations of 20,000 and 50,000 marks and are accepted by all shopkeepers who present them to the industrialist for redemption.

Confiscation of large sums by the French and the watchfulness of French border guards has created a shortage of marks in the Ruhr.

The Store-Wide Expansion Sales Crowd The Store Daily

THE scenes in the Miller & Rhoads store every day since the start of the Expansion Sales have been "just like Christmas!" Every floor and every department has been crowded throughout store hours with eager shoppers. In some cases—such as the sales of Men's Shirts, Women's Silk Dresses, Women's Hats, Women's Silk Hose, Women's Sweaters—Underwear—Corsets—Vacation and Outing Accessories, Summer Shoes, Silverware, China and Glassware—In these events and others, our facilities and stocks—great as they are—have been severely taxed to take care of the rush.

The point we wish to emphasize to our out of town friends is that the special values in the Expansion Sales are to be found in all departments of the store every day of the sale. None of our newspaper advertisements—not even the full-page and double-page announcements in the Richmond papers—attempts to list more than a few of the special sale items. Many of these are sold out within an hour after the store opens on the day following their announcement.

You will appreciate the difficulty of listing in the weekly out of town advertisements, such as this one, any items which we can hope to continue all during the week. The best of the offerings—that is those that are likely to prove most popular we do not dare advertise out of town as they would be sold out before visitors from a distance could come in.

Do we make it plain that it will pay you to visit the store if you need anything at all that we sell without waiting to see those particular items advertised? The forty departments of the store are all participating in the sales every day. Each is being handled very much as if it were a store in itself—trying to out rival other departments and make the most sales by offering the most attractive values.

Will you not arrange to visit the store some time this week?

Below we list two groups of special values. These are very remarkable in every way and best of all—it seems likely that stocks are sufficient to last through the week.

NAWAB BEGUM MAKES PEOPLE LIKE DRY LAWS

NEW YORK, July 14—Bhopal, that rugged little native State of Central India which has been ruled for three quarters of a century by a line of "invisible" princes, wielding the power of life and death over the subjects, has taken to prohibition—and likes it.

At the present ruler, Her Highness Jehan Begum, Nawab of Bhopal, says she likes it. And, with her powers of life and death, what she likes is all right with her subjects.

The spread of prohibition to faraway, mystical India is described in a letter from the Nawab Begum herself, indited, at her royal direction, by her "secretary in the political department" (of undecipherable name), on an obviously venerable typewriter. The letter, bearing the Begum's royal crest, was made public today by the committee on conservation and advance of the council boards of benevolence of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"I am directed by Her Highness," the missive reads, "to convey to your board Her Highness' many thanks for their kind appreciation of her policy in prohibiting liquor manufacture and sale in the State. It may interest you to know that the measure has already met with remarkable success. Great as the loss of income is from this source, Her Highness feels amply compensated for it by the visibly improved moral and material condition of her dear subjects."

The Nawab Begum, who ascended the throne in 1917, succeeding in a line of women started in 1884, when Sikander Begum was crowned and struck a blow for women's rights by changing the royal succession to the female line, has been noted since her coronation for the justice of her rule and her solicitude for the welfare of her 665,000 subjects.

Like her predecessors, she has rigorously enforced the rule of Islam, requiring all women to veil their faces in public, and hence is known as the "invisible princess." She created a sensation recently when she received the Prince of Wales in her palace of Arabian Nights splendor with her regal features obscured.

At a dinner to the Prince, then on tour in India, she announced a series of government reforms, including establishment of an executive council of State and a legislative council, all embodied in a new constitution.

The Nawab Begum first sprang into public note in 1911, shortly after her own coronation, when she visited London to attend the coronation of King George—and succeeded in losing her dashing young son who subsequently was found disporting himself at Montmartre with a young dancer whose face was not veiled.

More recently she figured as donor of $10,000 to support of a school at Delhi for her veiled sisters and again, two years ago, she broke into print by purchasing 2500 watches, which she distributed among her subjects.

NO TRACE FOUND OF 2 PRISONERS

(By The Associated Press)
PETERSBURG, July 14—No clue has yet been found of the three prisoners, one white man and two negroes, who set the Prince George County jail afire early this morning and escaped. Police throughout Virginia are on a lookout for the men, one of whom was a negro youth, under a one year sentence for attempting to kill his father and was awaiting removal to the reformatory.

When the fire was discovered it had gained so much headway that efforts made to save the jail, a two-story wooden structure, were futile. Sheriff Bousseau is of the belief that the fire was started when the prisoners burned a hole near a window to make their escape.

The prisoners who escaped were the only ones in the jail at the time, prisoners charged with some serious crimes in Prince County being confined in the Petersburg jail.

NAVY COSTS MOUNT

LONDON, July 14—Although the establishment of the Navy in 1923-24 consists of only $9,500 men, compared with 151,000 in 1913-14, the cost of pay has risen from $44,000,000 pounds to $70,000,000.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH MARRIED

Give yourself time to get accustomed to married life,
Miss Blake tells wives.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Give your married life a chance. Don't set yourself up against it in the first few weeks or the first few months or in a first or second year even.

When you consider that you two out of a whole world of people have set out upon the enormous adventure of living together, each full of rather laughable, if they were not so often tragic, illusions about the other,

On second thought, that may be the better attitude, providing, of course, there is left a small loophole for human limitations. Then, too, I suppose one cannot be desperately in love without illusions.

Being in love, that is, desperately in love, involves passion, and passion is fleeting. But if given half a chance it is easily enough converted into affection.

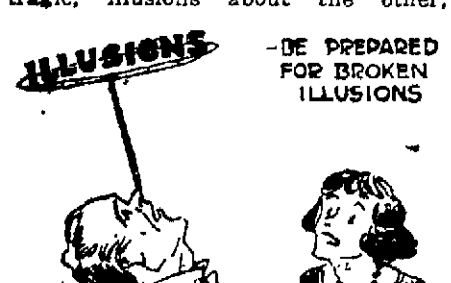

If every little disappointment is going to be taken seriously, however, passion soon swerves its course into indifference, and it is but a step from that to detestation.

Of all human enterprises marriage is said to be the most serious. Two events in a woman's life are more momentous; the first is her birth, over which she has no control, and the second is her death, over which she has but little control.

"Nobody at all fully realizes at first the immense gravity and difficulty of the affair," Arnold Bennett says. "Perhaps it is just as well that nobody does—otherwise there might be a disastrous decline in the marriage rate."

Despite its seriousness, marriage must not be treated too seriously all the time.

In spite of its "square business" on the whole it works surprisingly well. It is a bit good sportsmanship to run off home to mother, or to threaten to do, when one of your own illusions comes down upon your head.

which are bound to reveal themselves in their proper and perfectly human light, you should give more time to marveling that you get along as well as you do.

In the first term in the marriage school the business of facing broken illusions consumes much of the time. But it is not your fault nor is it his fault. Each created the illusions around the other. So it is not a bit good sportsmanship to run off home to mother, or to threaten to do, when one of your own illusions comes down upon your head.

Now, if you could just understand that at once, and try to remember that for every disappointment you receive, undoubtedly you have provided at least one yourself, you could start off on an easier jaunt after every fresh disclosure.

I wonder how it would be to adopt a "well, I'm prepared for the worst and thank God it isn't that" sort of philosophy. I don't suppose it would appeal to romanticists at all, and most young couples are nothing if not romantic about their particular adventure. There is going to be the ideal mating, theirs the perfect understanding.

GENERAL CUT IN PRODUCTION AT COTTON MILLS

(By The Associated Press)
FALL RIVER, Mass., July 14.—A general curtailment of from 50 to 75 per cent. in production affecting principally plain goods mills, has been agreed upon by the cotton manufacturers here as a result of the present depression in the industry. The production weekly in this city is estimated at 275,000 pieces and under the curtailment plans it will be reduced to between 100,000 and 125,000 pieces. Weekly sales in the print cloth market have reached as low as $20,000 several times during recent months.

WRECK OF NASH ON CHAT'M ROAD

Motorists between this city and Chatham last night report the wreck of a Nash touring car near the home of Asa Douglas. It was rumored that two in the car were seriously hurt, but this report could not be confirmed. Neither of the hospitals in this city reported receiving any one injured in an auto wreck. One motorist said that he saw blood on the road beside the car which was ditched, but he was unable to say whether anyone was hurt.

NEGRO BROUGHT BACK

(By The Associated Press)
RALEIGH, N. C., July 14.—John Rowland, negro, wanted on a charge of making liquor has been brought back to Lincoln County from Battle Creek, Mich., according to a letter received from Governor Morrison. The governor of Michigan, declined to honor the first requisition. The case aroused a good deal of interest in Michigan, the negro having said, it is charged that slavery was still practiced in North Carolina.

Cavalier Cape for Women

The cavalier cape has come back but at this time for the cavaliers. This old-time masculine style has returned for feminine wear. The cavalier cape is three-quarters length and often, as it is sketched here, made entirely of pleats. It is much more effective when worn with a dress that carries out the samepleated style. It's the swaggy thing to wear on the beach or on the street. Its suitability depends on the material. Made of jersey, wool canton, or any of the printed cotton fabrics in the light colors, it is suited for sports wear. Made of crepe de chine, Poirer twill or a light French rep, it will be a popular costume for fall street wear.

FRENCH CONTENT SUN SPOTS ACT ON HUMAN NERVES

PARIS, July 14.—The ancients were right. There is a direct relation between the sun and the nervous system. At least this is the theory expounded yesterday by Daniel Berthelot before the French Academy of Science.

Berthelot, however, goes farther than the wise men of antiquity. He says human beings fed unadvisedly to the effect of every solar perturbation, and that not only is there an analogy between electric and nervous perturbation can be transmitted through space by waves akin to those of the wireless at a speed of a little less than 200,000 miles a second.

Abbe Moreaux, astronomer, supports this theory. He says the periods of maximum solar activity always have coincided with war epochs. It is but a step—and French scientists have taken it—to the theory that human psychology depends upon, and is influenced by, solar caprices.

Dr. Sardou, of Nice, and Dr. Fau. of Lamalou, working independently over a period of 267 days, discovered, after comparing notes, that the condition of human beings fed unadvisedly to the effect of every solar perturbation, and that not only is there an analogy between electric and nervous perturbation can be transmitted through space by waves akin to those of the wireless at a speed of a little less than 200,000 miles a second.

Abbe Moreaux also claims to have confirmed the wisdom of antiquity in another way. He says he has learned the significance of the pyramids and solved the riddle of the Sphinx.

He suggests there is a hidden meaning in every measurement of the great pyramid, and that the whole structure was meant to indicate the great sum of knowledge attained by the Egyptians. He explains that the four faces of the great pyramid are oriented to the four points of the compass, with an astrological error of only five minutes.

He also cites many mathematical truths exemplified by this structure. The height of the pyramid multiplied 1,000,000,000 times represents the approximate distance between the earth and the sun. The inch, the smallest unit of measurement employed by the architects of the pyramids, multiplied by 100,000,000 is the exact distance traveled by the earth upon its orbit in 24 hours.

AIRMAN ASCENDS 12,000 YARDS "IN PRINCIPLE"

PARIS, July 14.—Sadi Lecoq, the French pilot, is after a new altitude record and has already reached 12,000 yards—"in principle." He has not left the ground.

All day he sat in a glass cage like a bug in a bottle, while scientists experimented with him. They sent the temperature of his case down to 14 below zero and the air he was breathing and finally fed it to him from an oxygen tank.

All the time he had to manipulate a miniature set of airplane controls while the scientists watched through the glass for symptoms of distress. All they saw were a few wisps emanating from the middle of Lecoq's fur coat.

The conditions are those the pilot will find when he goes up to break Lieutenant Macready's record. He is using the glass cage as the best way of training for his flight, and so scientists can see just what can be done in the way of perfecting his equipment.

CHANGE OF VENUE MAY MAKE TRIAL ILLEGAL

Special to The Bee.)
RICHMOND, Va., July 14.—Should Judge B. D. White accede to the prosecution's petition for a change of venue in the case of Robert O. and Larkin C. Garrett, under indictment for murder of Rev. E. S. Pierce in Cumberland county on June 5, the proceedings would thereafter be illegal, and, in event of conviction, a new trial would be ordered by the Supreme court of appeals.

This is rather definitely indicated by a series of Supreme court decisions of late years, and is being discussed. These opinions nullify every denial of the constitutional right of a prisoner to a trial, not only by a jury of his peers, but by a jury of his vicinity. They go further and define the term "vicinity" as the county whose court the prisoner is subject.

Flop! From first to third place in one merry North Carolina Saturday afternoon with rain in some spots and sunshine and shutouts in others.

The switch came about through Danville's defeat by Raleigh, Greensboro's shutout of the Twins, and Jope Pluvius' forfeit of the High Point-Durham game.

The extra inning game was featured by too much driving by Driver. The former Old Dominion heaver drove them across the umpire magnet just a little better than "Red" and Cude Harris and then drove out a triple, which a few seconds later resulted in the winning run.

Eddie Ragan forgot to steal a base before the hitting for the Virgians with two safeties. Raleigh won and Carr-Smith hit his triple—he does it sometimes when they don't win. That lucky outer gardener of the Capitals is as much addicted to three-base blows as the pitcher is to two-ply swats.

Mickey O'Dulum was the whole show of Greensboro's 2 to 0 defeat of the Twins, holding them to three hits.

After hitting safely in 19 consecutive games, "Spoke" Speaker, the rookie manager of the Cleveland Indians, was brought to a halt yesterday by Waite Hoyt of the Yankees. In the 19th game this set 41 hits in two bases, three for triples, and two for the circuit. Joss Willard is now as much of the past as Fossie Bledsoe, but Speaker's word went over "Pop" Dayton.

Saturday when Bobby Jones went into a tie with Cruikshank, the Scot on the Inwood course for the National golf championship, the South began to take notice. They were proud of the wonderful Atlanta amateur, but few thought that the young product of Dixie would survive the deciding round with the carry Scot. Nevertheless, today the pride of the Southland in the national golf champion of America. The Georgian was named out by Gene Sarazen in 1921 by one stroke and tied by Cruikshank this year. After he appeared to have the championship won, but he was nervous and failed to get par, and the South is celebrating today with her champion, the present center of the golfing world.

If a rumor had been a fact, the next few weeks would have seen scores of golfers and dozens of spectators flocking to the Inwood course for a few hours of the most exciting sport to be made. The rumor was that Dempsey had been killed in a trap wreck. The fact was, that he wasn't. Who originated the story is not known, but it spread with such a speed, it did not have been a bad lot. The number of German marks he would take to buy an American car, and the rumor spread with such a speed, it did not have been a bad lot. years in the majors. The defeat reduced New York's lead over the Cincinnati Reds to only three and one-half games. McGraw is liable to see "Red" yet.

In the Yanks' victory over Cleveland yesterday Babe Ruth drew his 100th pass. The Bambino is not being pined at all by the junior circuit writers, they won't let him hit. L. homers, and there's increasing his wastefulness by those easy jaunts down to first.

Rixey Snipes, University of South Carolina star, broke into the White Sox lineup yesterday. Snipes, who is an outfielder, went in and failed as a pinch hitter for Faber, the Chicago pitcher.

A game or so in the win column would put Snipes' crew back up where they "oughter be" and "uster be" and they're playing Hardin Herndon's outfit here today and tomorrow, looks as if the Turnure Makers might make us a stairway

WAITE HOYT STOPS TRIS' WAR CUDGEL

CLEVELAND, July 15.—After hitting safely in 19 consecutive games for an average of .551, Tris Speaker, manager of the Cleveland Indians, went hitless before Waite Hoyt, pitcher of the New York Yankees today. During the 19 games, Speaker got 43 hits in 18 times at bat.

Eleven of the star centerfielder's hits were for two-bases, three for triples and two for the circuit, one of the latter coming with the bases full for a total of 66 bases. He made one hit in only three of the games, two in 10, three in four and four in two.

Cruikshank Falls Before Southerner

INWOOD, N. Y., July 15.—Robert T. (Bobby) Jones, a sun-browned boy from Dixie, became the open golf champion of America today, defeating Robert Allen Cruikshank, Scotch professional of the Shickamaxon Country Club, Westfield, N. J., by two strokes in the play off, the third of the regular 72 hole championship round. Jones took 76 and Cruikshank 78.

Jones, an amateur of Atlanta, Georgia, came into the play off the end of the 18th green, ending one of the most dramatic contests in the quarter of a century of title history.

In the long-winning battle over green, rough, tee, fairway and sand, the Georgian, was pitted against a master golfer, a great fighter and a sportsman. And Robert Allen Cruikshank was a glorious loser.

Both the Georgian and the Scot, at the end of the round yesterday, in which 77 golfers competed, were tied with 296 strokes. That tie came in being on the 18th green. Jones with the championship ready for a journey, had fallen into ill luck and had taken a trap shot, a double bogey, almost hopelessly defeated and made a birdie three to square the stroke count. Thrilling enough as far as the 17th hole, where the Scot, with a remarkable recovery from a trap and a four foot putt, squared the match, the play-off developed epochal elements on the last hole. Cruikshank's 18th tee shot, half topped, landed behind a clump of trees and in the left of the fairway. Jones, 100 yards longer with his drive, lay in tough parched grass six feet to the right of the fairway. Cruikshank played safely, pitching 25 yards short of the brook guarding the green.

Jones selected his iron, a heavy one; took a mighty swing. The ball hit the green dead for the cup, ran slightly to the left of it and rested four feet away.

The southern boy needed to hole his putt for a birdie, and two putts would put him down in four, almost certainly enough to win. But Cruikshank had a chance to tie the slim as it was. If he could pitch to the pin and hole his putt, Jones would need the birdie to win.

The Scot drew a long breath. He studied almost every inch of the ground up to the cup, smiled, set himself and shot. The ball went in the hole. He had to hole from there or be certain of defeat. Again he studied the terrain, again he smiled and shot. The ball went in the hole. There was not the ghost of a chance left, but he putted and missed.

Then he walked to Jones to congratulate him, signifying that he conceded defeat. But Jones elected to put it out. The Atlanta played safe, rolling his ball to the edge of the cup and sinking it in four.

There were more than 7,000 spectators around the green to cheer the boy from Georgia as he realized his great ambition and captured the prize.

HANEY STANDS OUT AS UTILITY MAN OF VALUE

DETROIT, July 14.—Most ball players of today are specialists. They learn to play one particular position. Ask them to shift to some other spot and they are lost. Things are different now. Most major league clubs have a substitute for every infield position, a half dozen outfielders, three or four catchers and a dozen pitchers. Infielder Fred Haney of the Detroit club takes you back to the old days in baseball. Haney stands out as one of the very, very few high-class utility players in the big show. Haney is a third baseman by trade, well able to hold his own at that position with the best the National and American Leagues can boast. But Haney can do other things equally well. Since joining the Detroit club Haney has played every position on the infield and starred in each instance. He has done his bit in the outfield, and in a pinch could go behind the bat and get away with it. Recently in a game at Cleveland when Detroit ran out of catchers, Haney offered to catch the offerings of Herman Filleto. However, Coach Carich was pressed into service and Haney lost a chance to add more laurels to his utility record. It is questionable if there is a more valuable all-round player in the major leagues than Fred Haney. Combined with his ability to play any position, Haney is a fine hitter, a player of the aggressive type with plenty of courage. When speaking of the most valuable player in the majors, you can't very well afford to overlook Fred Haney.

LASSITER IS ASSIGNED TO THE CANAL ZONE

RICHMOND, Va., July 14.—Major-General William Lassiter, U. S. A., now at the White Sulphur Springs, will in October go to Panama to take command of the troops of the Panama zone. General Lassiter, who was born in Petersburg, has had a distinguished career in the army. He graduated at West Point and since that time his work has marked him for high rank. He is now assistant chief of staff of the war department and is possibly the youngest major-general in the army. He is a brother of Charles Trotter Lassiter, of Petersburg, and Mrs. Ennon G. Williams, of Richmond.

Virginians Lose To The Capitals

RALEIGH, July 14.—Raleigh evened the series by defeating Danville here this afternoon in ten innings by the score of 4 to 3. It was Pitcher Driver's superb work in this box which held the hot hitting Virginians down, one or two of them of the scratch variety. Two of the To-hacconists' runs were scored on an error. Gibson and Harris also pitched a good game. It may be termed as a pitchers' battle with Driver on the locals' side and Gibson and Harris dividing honors for the Virginians. Gibson, who started the mound work for the To-hacconists, twirled excellent ball until the sixth when he became slightly unsteady and although he might easily have continued, Murphy took no chances and crooked his finger at Harris who had been warming up and the latter relieved Gibson. This was in the sixth inning. Two runs registered in that frame.

The winning run came in the tenth inning, with the score tied, standing 3-3. Driver won his own game. He was the first man at bat in this frame and slammed out a triple. He crossed the plate a moment later on Sessions' sacrifice fly to Regan in deep center, who was so far back that any effort to catch the runner would have been fruitless.

Danville scored two runs in the fifth inning. Regan beat out an infield hit. Resco singled cleanly. Cochlin attempted to sacrifice. Driver fielded the ball and threw to third in an effort to force Regan. The substance of the entire story is that Regan and Resco scored. In the sixth another run was added. Trexler singled, went to second on a passed ball and scored on Murphy's single.

The feature was probably Waldrop's peg to the plate completing a double play. Cochlin was on third and attempted to score on Gibson's fly to Waldrop, but the fielder by a pretty peg home caught Cochlin.

Finance Talk Of Piedmont Wheel

The Greensboro Daily News sport writer for once forgets the lighter side of sport and Sunday comments on the finances of the Piedmont wheel. The substance of the entire story is that every club in the circuit, with the possible exception of Danville, is losing money—and the possible in connection with Danville is stressed. Without consulting Herb Murphy as to his finances the Greensboro Daily is credited with the statement that if any club is making the maximum it is Danville, and that it is doubtful about even the Virginians, as Murphy has passed over a considerable amount of long green to the Pullman Company while in search of players to bolster up his squad. The same official stated that the Patriots were several thousand in the hole, and that Winston, Durham, Raleigh and High Point are in the same condition. As a "finis" the writer suggests that if Danville should be in the way of needing a little extra change that "we could secure a good deal of money from the sale of Trexler and Freddie Dorman."

The Greensboro story follows: "The only club in the Piedmont League that might be making money this season is Danville. And it is doubtful if that team has saluted any dough in the club treasury for Herb Murphy has found the Pullmans in search of players to bolster up his team. He has traveled the players but it cost him money to land them. However, the team is drawing good crowds at the baseball game. It was one of the local club officials who was doing the talking.

"Asked if the Greensboro club was making any money he replied that

O'Quinn Blanks Winston-Salem

WINSTON SALEM, July 14.—Pitcher O'Quinn was in superb form today and he easily blanked the Twins while Greensboro hit Pitcher McCann, a new twirler from Detroit for a total of nine runs, making the count 3 to 0. O'Quinn allowed the Winston team but three scattered hits. O'Hara and Shay made pretty catches in the outer garden. Cox also did a pretty piece of work in executing a double play unassisted. He stabbed a hot line off the bat of Hambr in the sixth inning and doubled Leard at first.

GAME BETWEEN DURHAM AND HIGH POINT RAINED OUT

Balance! at sea and on land-

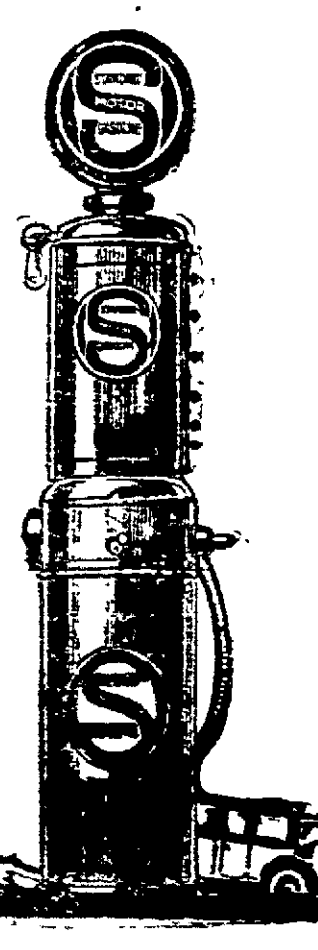

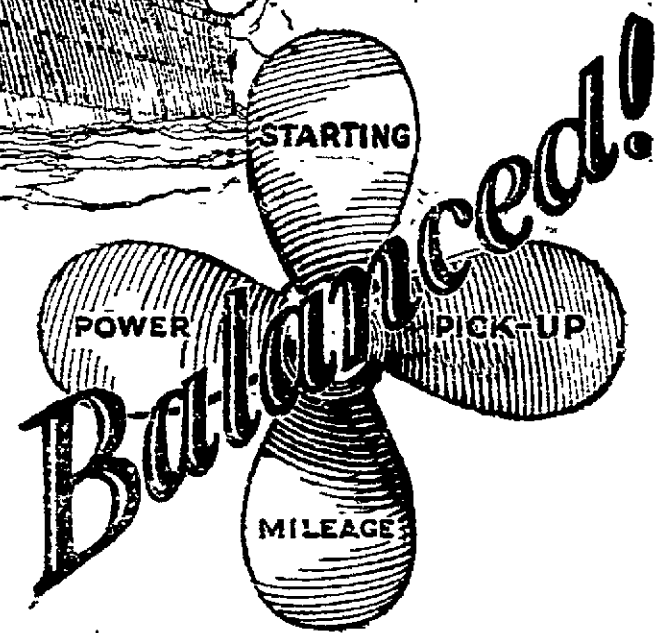

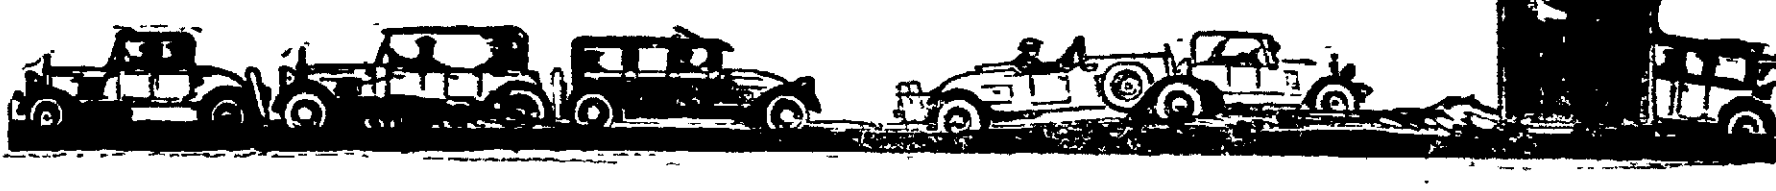

A GREAT ship far out at sea was shaken by an ominous shudder. One of the four propeller blades had been thrown off and before the engines could be stopped the driving shaft began to pound and whip. Sailors dangling in a rope sling went over the stern and chiseled off the opposing blade. Afterwards, with power reduced but balance restored, the vessel made port.

When a cylinder is missing your car goes by jerks. Its power plant is unbalanced. The gasoline that feeds your motor must be balanced. A refining experience of more than half a century and constant research have produced a finely balanced motor fuel called "Standard", the gasoline that gives you instantaneous starting and swift pick-up—maximum power and high, economical mileage. You don't have to turn out of your way to find this balanced gasoline. Every pump you meet with the red "SO" on the globe dispenses this all-round motor fuel. Use it exclusively for all-season economy and satisfaction.

BOOTLEGGING seems to be a quiet and honorable occupation compared to the sinister activities of the dope peddlers. This new daily serial takes the reader through the desperate and dangerous pathways of the dope ring to a climax that is thrilling and unexpected. Mystery, crime, love, intrigue and adventure are charmingly combined.

ELIZABETH DEJEANS wrote "The Romance of a Million Dollars," another Tribune Blue Ribbon serial of mystery and romance. THE SLAYER OF SOULS is complete in 13 daily installments, and action follows swiftly upon the introduction of the characters. Don't miss this fascinating daily serial. START IT NOW!

It was a mocking bird that had lifted out of the court below and came to rest on the stone sill of the office window. It held something in its beak. The bird and Letetia looked at each other for the briefest moment, the bird's small eyes fixed on Letetia's squirrel bright and squirrel colored orbs, which peered over her typewriter at the unexpected visitor. Then Letetia smiled, showing her jutting teeth; every human face bears a resemblance to some animal, and Letetia's features had the darting brightness of a squirrel. The bird spread wings and dropped like a sinking airplane half way down into the court between the two buildings, then shot upward and off over the roof of the apartment building opposite. It trilled as it went, a sort of agitated melody.

Letetia reached out and took the bit of brightness which the bird had dropped on the sill—a twist of woman's hair. It was a long hair combed from a woman's head, Letetia decided; it had been twisted around a finger; then tossed out of a window; possibly the wind had blown it off some dressing table. Beyond the Angel's Flight against which the office building and the apartment house backed, up over the ridge, were trees and shrubbery. The bird must have adventured over the Angel's Flight in quest of nesting bits and, flying into the court from there, had found itself in a pocket. But where had it found the hair? And such hair!

A
of the dope ring—
in 12 daily
installments

Letetia unwound it. It measured nearly a yard, vividly red hair, wonderful hair! She twisted it about her finger, looked at the bright band, and visioned the woman to whom it should belong: a fairly tall woman—she ought to be, with hair of that length—white skin and lovely features. And beautiful teeth, even and white—the sort of mouth men love. Letetia's lips tightened over her own unfortunate teeth. She had decided long ago that her other features were more than passable, but her teeth she hated. She hid them as much as possible, which constant lip control gave her an extraordinarily bright eyed, squirrelly expression, particularly as it was impossible to hide her teeth altogether.

With mouth covered, Letetia was pretty—dark hair perpetually awave, eyes a squirrel gray and large and bright, and dark brows and lashes aplenty. But her teeth should never have been; the teeth of a neglected child, white enough, but overlapping and projecting. She was a wisp of a girl; she looked delicate, but in reality she was wiry. A desert town, not the slums, had produced her, and the urge to make something of herself had brought her to the city. Besides, in the city her mouth could be made beautiful. Letetia had several ambitions, and one of them was to possess a set of even teeth. But that took money.

Then she brushed the twist of hair from her finger, flung it aside: what did that sort of a woman know about a Texas oil town, the wind and the dust, the heat and the cold and the mud! About life in a shack on the desert, before ever the desert began to spout oil. That woman had never had a lawless father, the kind that took to crookedness naturally and hadn't sense enough to own even a strip of back yard in Trixer in which a derrick might be erected when Trixer struck oil. She was the kind of woman Gorman would love; he was in love with some such woman, Letetia was convinced, the society kind who dressed wonderfully and intrigued men and did not have to eat at cafeterias.

Gorman was the secretive kind; there was a door opening from his private office into the hall, and often he let people in through that door, and while they were there with him their conversation was in marmura. Gorman was not in the office much, out most of the day; but frequently, he stayed in the office until late at night, for long after she went home there were lights in his office windows. From her room in the cheap rooming house up on the Angel's Flight she looked down on the office building and could see that the windows of his private room were lighted. More than once she had seen Gorman draw down these shades; his figure was distinctly outlined by the bright light behind him. She had wondered and wondered who was with him. Did a woman come to see him there?

It gave Letetia an angry headache: all the romance came to other people. Night after night she had sat alone in her small room, except when she ventured down into the city to a picture show. Occasionally she had journeyed out to Huntington Park to see a girl she had known in Trixer who was married now to a man who was doing some oil well work near Los Angeles. There were two girls in the house where Letetia roomed, but she avoided them—there was something queer about those girls, and Letetia knew what it was.

She had come to Los Angeles with such high hopes: a few months and the utmost economy, and she would have her hateful teeth out. Some bright day Gorman would come into the office and she would smile and show a row of even white teeth; she would be altogether pretty. It had been her fixed idea that Gorman would not have brought her to Los Angeles unless he had liked her, but it was evident now that he had no interest in her whatever. He treated her like a bit of office furniture. Why had he brought her to Los Angeles, she'd like to know.

WATERMELON CROP IS ABOUT HALF NORMAL

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, July 14.—Only slightly more than half as many watermelons are in prospect this year as for last year. The department of Agriculture's July forecast of production places the number at 29,858,500, while last year it was 56,672,500. Georgia's crop is forecast at 8,393,200 while last year it was 20,630,500 and Florida at 4,382,800 compared with 14,470,490. Texas displaced Florida this year as second largest producer with 5,730,600. South Carolina will have 4,312,000.

JAKE DAUBERT

WILL SHOULDER

BLAME COMING

CINCINNATI, July 14.—When the 1923 National League season closes, the Cincinnati Reds are found below the Giants, and perhaps below the Pittsburgh Pirates, too. Jacob Daubert will rise on his spiked shoes and shout: "I'm the goat!"

In some quarters Patrick Moran, as the manager, may be blamed for not ushering the Reds into another world series.

There will be others who will insist that McGraw's bank roll in rebuilding the Giants resulted in the downfall of the Reds.

But Jacob Daubert will lean against the box-seat during the final inning and point to another baseball mystery in explaining the pennant defeat of the Reds.

Daubert will pick to pieces a batting slump of his own.

In 1922 Daubert experienced the most successful season of his career. He had the remarkable average of .336, in his thirty-seventh year, made 265 hits, more than any time in his life, and scored the most runs with 114.

Squinting through the National League batting averages recently Daubert almost had to drift down to the last line to find himself.

"There's the reason," remarked Daubert. "See what I'm hitting? Not many points above .200. It was .228 the last time I looked at the figures. Can you figure it? I can't."

"I'm hitting the ball just as solidly as I did last season. I have the same swing, haven't changed my stance, pick on the curve and the fast one, but I'm hitting to infielders and outfielders, hitting into double plays where last season I was getting them safe, advancing base runners and getting runs for the boys."

"I can go through the book and show where a hit or two in a game on my part would have won at least seven games that we have lost."

"What does this mean—add seven victories to our pennant percentage, knock off seven defeats, and we'd be out in front of the Giants?"

How many players would put the blame on their own shoulders for keeping a ball club out of the pennant race? Baseball boasts few players of the Jake Daubert type.

TEACH MUTES TO SPEAK

PARIS, July 14.—Deaf mutes spoke today at the National Institute while their parents wept for joy. The children were the pupils of Director Dautreume, who has developed the system now being applied in Paris by the Ministry of Public Hygiene to teach mutes to speak.

"Speech is a sort of muscular gymnastics which we perform automatically, and we control it by listening to ourselves," he explains. "Deaf mutes are generally mute because they are deaf. Therefore, we can teach them the use of their lips, nose, teeth and tongue deliberately until after six or eight years of steady training they arrive at correctly articulated, emotionally nuanced speech."

"First we teach them to breathe. Then we teach them to make simple sounds, then syllables, words, sentences and finally accented thoughts and complete emotional renditions. What they do consciously by attention to their muscular sensations replaces what a normal person does automatically by hearing his own voice."

HUMAN GANG PLANK

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 14.—Three seamen on the Dante Alighieri of the trans-Atlantic Italian line formed a human ladder yesterday and swung Mrs. Helen Antonette aboard after the gang plank had been drawn in and the ship was beginning to move from the dock. She arrived at the pier three minutes late. I can't make it," she cried. One seaman held by two companions swung headfirst over the side grasped Mrs. Antonette by the wrists and she was hauled aboard while a crowd cheered.
